Metro Transit

Alternative Transit Service Study

Metro's Five Year Implementation Plan for Alternative Service Delivery has identified a portion of SE King County & Maple Valley, including the SR-169 corridor, as a candidate area for a potential demonstration project. The project's objective is to evaluate the feasibility of alternative transportation services that could provide the same or an improved level of mobility in the community, at less cost than existing fixed route services.

- Planning and outreach from March 2015 through October 2015. Any new service would begin in March 2016.

Doug Johnson - 206.477.5837 • doug.johnson@kingcounty.gov

Service Guidelines Task Force

In 2010, King County formed a Regional Transit Task Force which recommended that Metro create objective, data-based guidelines for planning and managing transit service. Metro responded to this recommendation, and the King County Council adopted Metro's strategic plan and service guidelines in July 2011.

Now, after several years' use of the service guidelines in transit planning, the King County Council has asked Metro to form a new task force to further analyze how transit service is evaluated and allocated. Specifically, the Council asked the task force to review and make recommendations regarding:

1. How transit service performance is measured to reflect the varied purposes of different types of transit service.
2. Approaches to evaluating how the goal of geographic value is included in the guidelines, including minimum service standards.

Department of Transportation Cont'd.

3. Approaches to evaluating how the goal of social equity is included in the guidelines.
4. Financial policies for purchase of additional services within a municipality or among multiple municipalities.
5. Guidelines for alternative services implementation.

The Service Guidelines Task Force, comprised of 33 executive level participants, will do this work in the first part of 2015 so that it can influence development of both Metro's long-range plan, scheduled to be complete by mid-2016, and its service guidelines update, scheduled to be complete by April 2016.

Chris O'claire - 206.477-5801 • christina.oclaire@kingcounty.gov

Metro Long-Range Plan

With King County growing fast, it's time to lay the foundation for a public transportation system that moves more people and moves them better. What should our transit system look like in 25 years? How can we support our economy, our environment, and the people who live here? How will Metro integrate with the expanding light rail system? These are the kind of questions that captured the imagination of civic leaders years ago, and their vision led to the public transportation system we rely on today. Now it's time to imagine a new future.

Metro's Long-Range Plan will present a shared vision for a future public transportation system that gets people where they want to go and helps our region thrive. The plan will describe an integrated network of transportation options, the facilities and technology needed to support those services, and the financial requirements for building the system. It will be developed in close coordination with Sound Transit and other transportation agencies.

Metro is working with transit riders, cities, community stakeholders and the public to shape a Long-Range Plan by mid-2016 that meets our region's growing and changing public transportation needs. More information about the plan and how to be involved is available online at kcmetrovision.org
